

JUDGES NOT APPOINTED. TROLLEY INDIFFERENT. POLICE INDIFFERENT.

Law Against Overcrowding Still Flagrantly Violated in Brooklyn.

Cars Going to Coney Island Jammed
with Passengers and Men Clung to the Steps.

THE CITY WILL NOT PROSECUTE.

There Are 1,800 Policemen, Fifteen Judges and a District Attorney Who Are Paid to Enforce the Law, but They Allow Corporations to Do as They Please.

There is a law, or ordinance, which forbids trolley railroad companies of Broooklyn carrying over 50 per cent more passengers than they can seat. There are 1,800 policemen, fifteen judges and a district attorney to enforce the ordinance.
The trolley magnates, however, pay no more attention to the ordinance than if it were a resolution adopted by a barroom campaign club. They act as if they were above and beyond law or courts. They run their cars when they please, how they please and where they please.

The public were, however, after a trolley car had killed two persons and wounded twenty, that overcrowding would not be permitted any more. The Journal told its readers Monday morning how President Johnson's promise was carried out the day before—cars were crowded with men, and the police looked on list-lessly, as if afraid to interfere with a railroad company which openly violated the law in their presence.

The thing was repeated Monday, and the vice did not interfere.

There was no improvement yesterday.
Cars were run with as many passengers as they could carry or drag. The company's own rule forbidding passengers to ride on the steps was violated a hundred times, especially on the Coney Island line.

A Journal reporter who passed along Hogues avenue yesterday afternoon saw a dozen cars whose passengers exceeded the 100% limit and who rode on steps and benches. To be specific the numbers of 60% of the cars are given: Nos. 362, 747, 35, 167, 344 and 136.

The Brooklyn Heights Company violated
the law, especially on the Flatbush avenue line. Car No. 1,251, which passed the City Hall last night, was crowded and men stood on the steps. Police stood by and made no attempt to interfere. The Communications Council says he cannot enforce the ordinance, and it would be unwise to bring any action against the corporations, as the civil courts are crowded with cases of violations of the trolley speed ordinance.

TROLLEY INJURES THREE.

A Nassau Car Smashes into a Coach at the Bergen Street and Carlton
Avenue Crossing.

The reckless running of a trolley car yesterday afternoon resulted in a serious accident at the intersection of Prospect Park Street and Carlton Avenue, when a beast was wrecked by a Flatbush car.

Miss Minnie Kane, of No. 876 Dean street, and a relative named Charles Brophy, were in a coach when it was struck by a Nassau car at the intersection of Prospect Park Street and Carlton Avenue, for a drive through Prospect Park.

The coach rolled up Carlton Avenue about 2:30 o'clock. John Scully was driving. Car
No. 289, of the Bergen Street line, bound for South Ferry, came tearing along. Although Carlton Avenue is a favorite street for drivers of pleasure vehicles and bicyclists, Nassau trolleys cross it at the highest rate of speed. The car No. 289 crashed into the coach, causing it to tip partly up. Miss Kane was thrown from her seat and landed on the head and body, and one of her ribs was broken.

Driver Scully was thrown to the pavement, receiving a scalp wound and probable concussion of the brain. Mr. Brophy was shaken up considerably. Both horses were injured, one seriously, and the carriage was almost wrecked.

Miss Kane was removed to her home and Scully was taken to his residence, at Glas-ton Avenue and Fulton street.

MORE VICTIMS OF THE CARS.

His Foot Crushed, Man Thrown from His Horse and a Woman Hurt.

Gustave Miller, five years old, living at
No. 125 Suydam street, Brooklyn, had his right foot crushed by car No. 1,847, of the Myrtle Avenue line, at Evergreen Avenue.
The boy was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, where it is thought likely that his foot will have to be amputated.

Walter Turner, forty years old, of No. 1173 Fulton street, Brooklyn, was riding on a horseback along Seventh Avenue last night, when a trolley car struck his horse. Turner was thrown from the saddle and received several scalp wounds, which were treated by an ambulance surgeon from the Seney Hospital.

Mr. Olive Beards, who lives at No. 67
Milton Avenue, Brooklyn, was alighting from a Fulton street trolley car at Bedford Avenue yesterday afternoon, when the car suddenly started off. The result was that her left arm was fractured and her back injured. An ambulance carried her to the Hempstead Hospital.

NEARLY KILLED IN A BALOON.

McCallan Went to the Barkeeper's Assistance and Suffered in Consequence.

Justice Nostrand, in the Grant Street Police Court, Flatbush, yesterday, held William Leary, of No. 701 Atlantic Avenue, and Henry France, of No. 371 Eleventh Street, without bail for examination for an alleged solonious assault upon Thomas MacCallan, of No. 608 Clisson Avenue. The assault took place in Stuart's liquor saloon, at
No. 623 Clisson Avenue, on Monday.

The two men were under the influence of liquor and tried to clean out the place.
They smashed a $200 plate glass mirror, broke the bar fixtures, hurled the bottles at the customers, and when the bartender tried to stop them they attacked him. When MacCallan tried to rescue the bartender they beat him. He is now in St. Mary's Hospital, and was reported yesterday to be in a critical condition.

Accused of Passing Worthless
Checks.

Charles Eldred, of No. 17 Astor Place, in Williamsburg, who until a short time ago was a bookkeeper in the employ of his father, a Washington Market merchant, was held for trial in the New York Police Court yesterday on a charge of passing a worthless check on Jacob L. L. a saloon keeper, at No. 108 Lynch street, and of grand larceny, preferred by Mrs. Mary Wood, of No. 106 Flatbush Avenue. Eldred has been out of work for some time. On Monday evening he passed the check for $20 on the saloon keeper, and yesterday morning was arrested in the store of William Ryan, No. 701 Bedford Avenue. He was attempting to pass a check for $10. Sometime ago, while working at the home of Mrs. Wood, he is alleged to have stolen a diamond ring from the lady's valued at $250. In a defense ball on each charge, he was sent to jail.

JUDGES NOT APPOINTED. TROLLEY INDIFFERENT. POLICE INDIFFERENT.

Law Against Overcrowding Still Flagrantly Violated in Brooklyn.

Cars Going to Coney Island Jammed
with Passengers and Men
Clung to the Steps.

THE CITY WILL NOT PROSECUTE.

There Are 1,800 Policemen, Fifteen Judges
and a District Attorney Who Are Paid to Enforce the Law, but They Allow Corporations to Do as They Please.

There is a law, or ordinance, which for-
bids trolley railroad companies of Broooklyn carrying over 50 per cent more passengers than they can seat. There are 1,800 policemen, fifteen judges and a district attorney to enforce the ordinance.
The trolley magnates, however, pay no
more attention to the ordinance than if it
were a resolution adopted by a barroom campaign club. They act as if they were above and beyond law or courts. They
run their cars when they please, how they
please and where they please.

The public were, however, after a
trolley car had killed two persons and
wounded twenty, that overcrowding would not be permitted any more. The Journal
told its readers Monday morning how President Johnson's promise was carried out
the day before—cars were crowded with
men, and the police looked on list-lessly, as if afraid to interfere with a
railroad company which openly violated
the law in their presence.

The thing was repeated Monday, and the
vice did not interfere.

There was no improvement yesterday.
Cars were run with as many passengers as they could carry or drag. The company's own rule forbidding passengers to ride
on the steps was violated a hundred times,
especially on the Coney Island line.

A Journal reporter who passed along Hogues avenue yesterday afternoon saw a dozen cars whose passengers exceeded the 100% limit and who rode on steps and benches. To be specific the numbers of 60% of the cars are given: Nos. 362, 747, 35, 167, 344 and 136.

The Brooklyn Heights Company violated
the law, especially on the Flatbush avenue
line. Car No. 1,251, which passed the City Hall last night, was crowded and men stood on the steps. Police stood by and
made no attempt to interfere. The Communications Council says he cannot enforce
the ordinance, and it would be unwise to
bring any action against the corporations,
as the civil courts are crowded with cases
of violations of the trolley speed ordinance.

TROLLEY INJURES THREE.

A Nassau Car Smashes into a Coach at the
Bergen Street and Carlton
Avenue Crossing.

The reckless running of a trolley car
yesterday afternoon resulted in a serious
accident at the intersection of Prospect Park Street and Carlton Avenue, when a beast was wrecked by a Flatbush car.

Miss Minnie Kane, of No. 876 Dean
street, and a relative named Charles Brophy, were in a coach when it was struck by a Nassau car at the intersection of Prospect Park Street and Carlton Avenue, for a drive through Prospect Park.

The coach rolled up Carlton Avenue about
2:30 o'clock. John Scully was driving. Car
No. 289, of the Bergen Street line, bound for South Ferry, came tearing along. Although Carlton Avenue is a favorite street
for drivers of pleasure vehicles and bicyclists, Nassau trolleys cross it at the highest rate of speed. The car No. 289
crashed into the coach, causing it to tip partly up. Miss Kane was thrown from her seat and landed on the head and
body, and one of her ribs was broken.

Driver Scully was thrown to the pavement,
receiving a scalp wound and probable
concussion of the brain. Mr. Brophy was shaken up considerably. Both horses were injured, one seriously, and the carriage was almost wrecked.

Miss Kane was removed to her home and Scully was taken to his residence, at Glas-
ton Avenue and Fulton street.

MORE VICTIMS OF THE CARS.

His Foot Crushed, Man Thrown from His
Horse and a Woman Hurt.

Gustave Miller, five years old, living at
No. 125 Suydam street, Brooklyn, had his right foot crushed by car No. 1,847, of the Myrtle Avenue line, at Evergreen Avenue.
The boy was taken to St. Mary's Hospital,
where it is thought likely that his foot will
have to be amputated.

Walter Turner, forty years old, of No. 1173
Fulton street, Brooklyn, was riding on a horseback along Seventh Avenue last night,
when a trolley car struck his horse. Turner
was thrown from the saddle and received
several scalp wounds, which were treated
by an ambulance surgeon from the Seney
Hospital.

Mr. Olive Beards, who lives at No. 67
Milton Avenue, Brooklyn, was alighting
from a Fulton street trolley car at Bedford Avenue yesterday afternoon, when the car suddenly started off. The result was that
her left arm was fractured and her back
injured. An ambulance carried her to the Hempstead Hospital.

NEARLY KILLED IN A BALOON.

McCallan Went to the Barkeeper's Assistance
and Suffered in Consequence.

Justice Nostrand, in the Grant Street Police Court, Flatbush, yesterday, held William Leary, of No. 701 Atlantic Avenue, and Henry France, of No. 371 Eleventh Street,
without bail for examination for an alleged
solonious assault upon Thomas MacCallan,
of No. 608 Clisson Avenue. The assault
took place in Stuart's liquor saloon, at
No. 623 Clisson Avenue, on Monday.

The two men were under the influence of liquor and tried to clean out the place.
They smashed a $200 plate glass mirror,
broke the bar fixtures, hurled the bottles
at the customers, and when the bartender
tried to stop them they attacked him. When MacCallan tried to rescue the bartender
they beat him. He is now in St. Mary's Hospital, and was reported yesterday
to be in a critical condition.

Accused of Passing Worthless
Checks.

Charles Eldred, of No. 17 Astor Place, in Williamsburg, who until a short time ago
was a bookkeeper in the employ of his father, a Washington Market merchant, was held for trial in the New York Police Court yesterday on a charge of passing a worthless check on Jacob L. L. a saloon keeper, at No. 108 Lynch street, and of grand larceny, preferred by Mrs. Mary
Wood, of No. 106 Flatbush Avenue. Eldred
has been out of work for some time. On Monday evening he passed the check for $20
on the saloon keeper, and yesterday morning was arrested in the store of William Ryan, No. 701 Bedford Avenue. He was attempting to pass a check for $10. Sometime ago, while working at the home of Mrs. Wood, he is alleged to have stolen a diamond ring from the lady's valued at $250. In a defense ball on each charge,
he was sent to jail.

JUDGES NOT APPOINTED. TROLLEY INDIFFERENT. POLICE INDIFFERENT.

Law Against Overcrowding Still Flagrantly Violated in Brooklyn.

Cars Going to Coney Island Jammed
with Passengers and Men
Clung to the Steps.

THE CITY WILL NOT PROSECUTE.

There Are 1,800 Policemen, Fifteen Judges
and a District Attorney Who Are Paid to Enforce the Law, but They Allow Corporations to Do as They Please.

There is a law, or ordinance, which for-
bids trolley railroad companies of Broooklyn carrying over 50 per cent more passengers than they can seat. There are 1,800 policemen, fifteen judges and a district attorney to enforce the ordinance.
The trolley magnates, however, pay no
more attention to the ordinance than if it
were a resolution adopted by a barroom campaign club. They act as if they were above and beyond law or courts. They
run their cars when they please, how they
please and where they please.

The public were, however, after a
trolley car had killed two persons and
wounded twenty, that overcrowding would not be permitted any more. The Journal
told its readers Monday morning how President Johnson's promise was carried out
the day before—cars were crowded with
men, and the police looked on list-lessly, as if afraid to interfere with a
railroad company which openly violated
the law in their presence.

The thing was repeated Monday, and the
vice did not interfere.

There was no improvement yesterday.
Cars were run with as many passengers as they could carry or drag. The company's own rule forbidding passengers to ride
on the steps was violated a hundred times,
especially on the Coney Island line.

A Journal reporter who passed along Hogues avenue yesterday afternoon saw a dozen cars whose passengers exceeded the 100% limit and who rode on steps and benches. To be specific the numbers of 60% of the cars are given: Nos. 362, 747, 35, 167, 344 and 136.

The Brooklyn Heights Company violated
the law, especially on the Flatbush avenue
line. Car No. 1,251, which passed the City Hall last night, was crowded and men stood on the steps. Police stood by and
made no attempt to interfere. The Communications Council says he cannot enforce
the ordinance, and it would be unwise to
bring any action against the corporations,
as the civil courts are crowded with cases
of violations of the trolley speed ordinance.

TROLLEY INJURES THREE.

A Nassau Car Smashes into a Coach at the
Bergen Street and Carlton
Avenue Crossing.

The reckless running of a trolley car
yesterday afternoon resulted in a serious
accident at the intersection of Prospect Park Street and Carlton Avenue, when a beast was wrecked by a Flatbush car.

Miss Minnie Kane, of No. 876 Dean
street, and a relative named Charles Brophy, were in a coach when it was struck by a Nassau car at the intersection of Prospect Park Street and Carlton Avenue, for a drive through Prospect Park.

The coach rolled up Carlton Avenue about
2:30 o'clock. John Scully was driving. Car
No. 289, of the Bergen Street line, bound for South Ferry, came tearing along. Although Carlton Avenue is a favorite street
for drivers of pleasure vehicles and bicyclists, Nassau trolleys cross it at the highest rate of speed. The car No. 289
crashed into the coach, causing it to tip partly up. Miss Kane was thrown from her seat and landed on the head and
body, and one of her ribs was broken.

Driver Scully was thrown to the pavement,
receiving a scalp wound and probable
concussion of the brain. Mr. Brophy was shaken up considerably. Both horses were injured, one seriously, and the carriage was almost wrecked.

Miss Kane was removed to her home and Scully was taken to his residence, at Glas-
ton Avenue and Fulton street.

MORE VICTIMS OF THE CARS.

His Foot Crushed, Man Thrown from His
Horse and a Woman Hurt.

Gustave Miller, five years old, living at
No. 125 Suydam street, Brooklyn, had his right foot crushed by car No. 1,847, of the Myrtle Avenue line, at Evergreen Avenue.
The boy was taken to St. Mary's Hospital,
where it is thought likely that his foot will
have to be amputated.

Walter Turner, forty years old, of No. 1173
Fulton street, Brooklyn, was riding on a horseback along Seventh Avenue last night,
when a trolley car struck his horse. Turner
was thrown from the saddle and received
several scalp wounds, which were treated
by an ambulance surgeon from the Seney
Hospital.

Mr. Olive Beards, who lives at No. 67
Milton Avenue, Brooklyn, was alighting
from a Fulton street trolley car at Bedford Avenue yesterday afternoon, when the car suddenly started off. The result was that
her left arm was fractured and her back
injured. An ambulance carried her to the Hempstead Hospital.

NEARLY KILLED IN A BALOON.

McCallan Went to the Barkeeper's Assistance
and Suffered in Consequence.

Justice Nostrand, in the Grant Street Police Court, Flatbush, yesterday, held William Leary, of No. 701 Atlantic Avenue, and Henry France, of No. 371 Eleventh Street,
without bail for examination for an alleged
solonious assault upon Thomas MacCallan,
of No. 608 Clisson Avenue. The assault
took place in Stuart's liquor saloon, at
No. 623 Clisson Avenue, on Monday.

The two men were under the influence of liquor and tried to clean out the place.
They smashed a $200 plate glass mirror,
broke the bar fixtures, hurled the bottles
at the customers, and when the bartender
tried to stop them they attacked him. When MacCallan tried to rescue the bartender
they beat him. He is now in St. Mary's Hospital, and was reported yesterday
to be in a critical condition.

Accused of Passing Worthless
Checks.

Charles Eldred, of No. 17 Astor Place, in Williamsburg, who until a short time ago
was a bookkeeper in the employ of his father, a Washington Market merchant, was held for trial in the New York Police Court yesterday on a charge of passing a
worthless check on Jacob L. L. a saloon keeper, at No. 108 Lynch street, and of grand larceny, preferred by Mrs. Mary
Wood, of No. 106 Flatbush Avenue. Eldred
has been out of work for some time. On Monday evening he passed the check for $20
on the saloon keeper, and yesterday morning was arrested in the store of William Ryan, No. 701 Bedford Avenue. He was attempting to pass a check for $10. Sometime ago, while working at the home of Mrs. Wood, he is alleged to have stolen a diamond ring from the lady's valued at $250. In a defense ball on each charge,
he was sent to jail.

JUDGES NOT APPOINTED. TROLLEY INDIFFERENT. POLICE INDIFFERENT.

Law Against Overcrowding Still Flagrantly Violated in Brooklyn.

Cars Going to Coney Island Jammed
with Passengers and Men
Clung to the Steps.

THE CITY WILL NOT PROSECUTE.

There Are 1,800 Policemen, Fifteen Judges
and a District Attorney Who Are Paid to Enforce the Law, but They Allow Corporations to Do as They Please.

There is a law, or ordinance, which for-
bids trolley railroad companies of Broooklyn carrying over 50 per cent more passengers than they can seat. There are 1,800 policemen, fifteen judges and a district attorney to enforce the ordinance.
The trolley magnates, however, pay no
more attention to the ordinance than if it
were a resolution adopted by a barroom campaign club. They act as if they were above and beyond law or courts. They
run their cars when they please, how they
please and where they please.

The public were, however, after a
trolley car had killed two persons and
wounded twenty, that overcrowding would not be permitted any more. The Journal
told its readers Monday morning how President Johnson's promise was carried out
the day before—cars were crowded with
men, and the police looked on list-lessly, as if afraid to interfere with a
railroad company which openly violated
the law in their presence.

The thing was repeated Monday, and the
vice did not interfere.

There was no improvement yesterday.
Cars were run with as many passengers as they could carry or drag. The company's own rule forbidding passengers to ride
on the steps was violated a hundred times,
especially on the Coney Island line.

A Journal reporter who passed along Hogues avenue yesterday afternoon saw a dozen cars whose passengers exceeded the 100% limit and who rode on steps and benches. To be specific the numbers of 60% of the cars are given: Nos. 362, 747, 35, 167, 344 and 136.

The Brooklyn Heights Company violated
the law, especially on the Flatbush avenue
line. Car No. 1,251, which passed the City Hall last night, was crowded and men stood on the steps. Police stood by and
made no attempt to interfere. The Communications Council says he cannot enforce
the ordinance, and it would be unwise to
bring any action against the corporations,
as the civil courts are crowded with cases
of violations of the trolley speed ordinance.

TROLLEY INJURES THREE.

A Nassau Car Smashes into a Coach at the
Bergen Street and Carlton
Avenue Crossing.

The reckless running of a trolley car
yesterday afternoon resulted in a serious
accident at the intersection of Prospect Park Street and Carlton Avenue, when a beast was wrecked by a Flatbush car.

Miss Minnie Kane, of No. 876 Dean
street, and a relative named Charles Brophy, were in a coach when it was struck by a Nassau car at the intersection of Prospect Park Street and Carlton Avenue, for a drive through Prospect Park.

The coach rolled up Carlton Avenue about
2:30 o'clock. John Scully was driving. Car
No. 289, of the Bergen Street line, bound for South Ferry, came tearing along. Although Carlton Avenue is a favorite street
for drivers of pleasure vehicles and bicyclists, Nassau trolleys cross it at the highest rate of speed. The car No. 289
crashed into the coach, causing it to tip partly up. Miss Kane was thrown from her seat and landed on the head and
body, and one of her ribs was broken.

Driver Scully was thrown to the pavement,
receiving a scalp wound and probable
concussion of the brain. Mr. Brophy was shaken up considerably. Both horses were injured, one seriously, and the carriage was almost wrecked.

Miss Kane was removed to her home and Scully was taken to his residence, at Glas-
ton Avenue and Fulton street.

MORE VICTIMS OF THE CARS.

His Foot Crushed, Man Thrown from His
Horse and a Woman Hurt.

Gustave Miller, five years old, living at
No. 125 Suydam street, Brooklyn, had his right foot crushed by car No. 1,847, of the Myrtle Avenue line, at Evergreen Avenue.
The boy was taken to St. Mary's Hospital,
where it is thought likely that his foot will
have to be amputated.

Walter Turner, forty years old, of No. 1173
Fulton street, Brooklyn, was riding on a horseback along Seventh Avenue last night,
when a trolley car struck his horse. Turner
was thrown from the saddle and received
several scalp wounds, which were treated
by an ambulance surgeon from the Seney
Hospital.

Mr. Olive Beards, who lives at No. 67
Milton Avenue, Brooklyn, was alighting
from a Fulton street trolley car at Bedford Avenue yesterday afternoon, when the car
suddenly started off. The result was that
her left arm was fractured and her back
injured. An ambulance carried her to the Hempstead Hospital.

NEARLY KILLED IN A BALOON.

McCallan Went to the Barkeeper's Assistance
and Suffered in Consequence.

Justice Nostrand, in the Grant Street Police Court, Flatbush, yesterday, held William Leary, of No. 701 Atlantic Avenue, and Henry France, of No. 371 Eleventh Street,
without bail for examination for an alleged
solonious assault upon Thomas MacCallan,
of No. 608 Clisson Avenue. The assault
took place in Stuart's liquor saloon, at
No. 623 Clisson Avenue, on Monday.

The two men were under the influence of liquor and tried to clean out the place.
They smashed a $200 plate glass mirror,
broke the bar fixtures, hurled the bottles
at the customers, and when the bartender
tried to stop them they attacked him. When MacCallan tried to rescue the bartender
they beat him. He is now in St. Mary's Hospital, and was reported yesterday
to be in a critical condition.

Accused of Passing Worthless
Checks.

Charles Eldred, of No. 17 Astor Place, in Williamsburg, who until a short time ago
was a bookkeeper in the employ of his father, a Washington Market merchant, was held for trial in the New York Police Court yesterday on a charge of passing a
worthless check on Jacob L. L. a saloon keeper, at No. 108 Lynch street, and of grand larceny, preferred by Mrs. Mary
Wood, of No. 106 Flatbush Avenue. Eldred
has been out of work for some time. On Monday evening he passed the check for $20
on the saloon keeper, and yesterday morning was arrested in the store of William Ryan, No. 701 Bedford Avenue. He was attempting to pass a check for $10. Sometime ago, while working at the home of Mrs. Wood, he is alleged to have stolen a diamond ring from the lady's valued at $250. In a defense ball on each charge,
he was sent to jail.

JUDGES NOT APPOINTED. TROLLEY INDIFFERENT. POLICE INDIFFERENT.

Law Against Overcrowding Still Flagrantly Violated in Brooklyn.

Cars Going to Coney Island Jammed
with Passengers and Men
Clung to the Steps.

THE CITY WILL NOT PROSECUTE.

There Are 1,800 Policemen, Fifteen Judges
and a District Attorney Who Are Paid to Enforce the Law, but They Allow Corporations to Do as They Please.

There is a law, or ordinance, which for-
bids trolley railroad companies of Broooklyn carrying over 50 per cent more passengers than they can seat. There are 1,800 policemen, fifteen judges and a district attorney to enforce the ordinance.
The trolley magnates, however, pay no
more attention to the ordinance than if it
were a resolution adopted by a barroom campaign club. They act as if they were above and beyond law or courts. They
run their cars when they please, how they
please and where they please.

The public were, however, after a
trolley car had killed two persons and
wounded twenty, that overcrowding would not be permitted any more. The Journal
told its readers Monday morning how President Johnson's promise was carried out
the day before—cars were crowded with
men, and the police looked on list-lessly, as if afraid to interfere with a
railroad company which openly violated
the law in their presence.

The thing was repeated Monday, and the
vice did not interfere.

There was no improvement yesterday.
Cars were run with as many passengers as they could carry or drag. The company's own rule forbidding passengers to ride
on the steps was violated a hundred times,
especially on the Coney Island line.

A Journal reporter who passed along Hogues avenue yesterday afternoon saw a dozen cars whose passengers exceeded the 100% limit and who rode on steps and benches. To be specific the numbers of 60% of the cars are given: Nos. 362, 747, 35, 167, 344 and 136.

The Brooklyn Heights Company violated
the law, especially on the Flatbush avenue
line. Car No. 1,251, which passed the City Hall last night, was crowded and men stood on the steps. Police stood by and
made no attempt to interfere. The Communications Council says he cannot enforce
the ordinance, and it would be unwise to
bring any action against the corporations,
as the civil courts are crowded with cases
of violations of the trolley speed ordinance.

TROLLEY INJURES THREE.

A Nassau Car Smashes into a Coach at the
Bergen Street and Carlton
Avenue Crossing.

The reckless running of a trolley car
yesterday afternoon resulted in a serious
accident at the intersection of Prospect Park Street and Carlton Avenue, when a beast was wrecked by a Flatbush car.

Miss Minnie Kane, of No.